
Playbook Contribution Form

Bioregional Flow Funding Playbook & Resource Library

KINSHIP EARTH

Published Q1 2026

Form for those who want to contribute to the playbook

Bioregional Flow Funding Playbook & Resource Library

Contribution Form

We're so glad you're here.

This Playbook is a collaborative effort, and we're honored you're considering contributing to it.

We're currently gathering tools, templates, agreements, models, and stories to support the growth of Flow Funding - especially in its bioregional forms - and to provide practical resources for organizing groups working toward place-based regeneration and community resilience.

While this began as a project focused on Flow Funding, it has expanded into a modular, evolving resource that uplifts a wider ecosystem of practices rooted in trust, reciprocity, and local knowledge. It's being designed to help communities move resources with care and clarity—while also supporting governance, coordination, and relationship-building at the bioregional scale.

Our intention is to publish the first iteration of the Playbook in June 2025 on Kinship Earth's website, with additional modules and updates added over time as new contributions and feedback come in.

In addition to resources developed by Kinship Earth, the Playbook will include and link to relevant tools, frameworks, and stories created by other practitioners and organizations in the field—with permission—so that readers can learn from a diversity of approaches.

We welcome contributions from grassroots leaders, funders, facilitators, technologists, land stewards, researchers, and others bringing bioregional visions and community-led resource flow to life.

If you've created or practiced something that aligns with the spirit of this Playbook, we invite you to share it. Whether it's a tool, process, model, or story, your offering could support others navigating similar paths and help shape this evolving, community-informed resource.

◆ About You

- 1. Full Name
 - 2. Email Address
 - 3. Organization / Project Name (if applicable)
 - 4. Website or Link to Learn More
-

◆ Your Bioregional Context

- 1. What bioregion(s) is your work rooted in?
(Optional: Share any relevant ecological, cultural, or historical context.)
 - 2. How are you engaging in grassroots, bioregional, or place-based organizing?
(e.g., regeneration, mutual aid, participatory funding, watershed restoration, cultural stewardship, local governance, etc.)
-

◆ Your Contribution

- 1. What kind of resource or insight would you like to share with the Playbook community?
(Check all that apply)
 - A case study or story of place-based impact
 - A participatory or decentralized governance model
 - A Flow Funding tool, agreement, or reflection
 - A mapping, sensing, or coordination tool
 - A grassroots organizing strategy or onboarding process
 - A community wealth-building or regenerative finance model

-
- A legal or compliance guide for trust-based giving
 - Other: _____

1. Please briefly describe what you're offering

(Feel free to include links, files, or notes on context and usage.)

2. Which section(s) of the Playbook or resource library might your contribution support?

(Optional: e.g., Flow Funding, Other Mechanisms to Support Grassroots Resource Flow, Governance / Bioregional Congressing, Mapping, Community Engagement, Monitoring & Impact, Legal Tools, etc.)

♦ Stewardship & Collaboration

1. How would you like to be credited or acknowledged?

(e.g., name, organization, anonymous, with or without link, etc.)

2. Are you open to future collaboration or being contacted for peer support or adaptation of what you've shared?

- Yes
- No
- Maybe (depends on capacity)

1. Anything else you'd like us to know or include?

(Optional notes, invitations, or questions.)